The world had flung its terpor away, And breathed the pure air of April day; The sap was pulsing through maple trees, And the rivers were rushing to meet the seas. All the secret thrills that through Nature run. ilent and swift as the threads of the sun. Shook with their tremors each growing thing, And worked with the mystic charms of spring.

Like ghosts at the Resurrection Day, The snow drops arose from the torpid clay; And the violets opened their purple eyes, And smiled in the face of the tender skies. The larch trees were covered with crimson buds Till their branches seemed streaming with sanguine

And the ivy looked faded and old and sero, Mid the greenness that sprouted everywhere. But though the landscape was passing bright, Her coming lent a rarer light; A tender verdure was on the grass, And flowers grew brighter to see her pass. Her form and face, as she moved along. Seemed like a sweet incarnate song— A living hymn that the Earth, in glee. Sent up to Heaven, the sun, and me.

So seemed she to me a year ago, When first I saw her sauntering slow Over the meadow, and down the lane, Where the privet shone with the April rain. The year is past-entombed-forgot. I stand to-day on the self-same spot. Still do the pallid snow-drops rise, And the violets open their purple eyes. And a coming greenness is in the lane. And the privet glistens with recent rain: The larches sprout, and the blue birds sing. And the earth resounds with the joy of spring. But the joy of the world is gone from me; I see no beauty in field or tree; The flower that bloomed in my path is crushed. The music that solared my life is hushed. I see her tomb-stone from where I stand-

Stark and stiff, like a ghastly hand Pointing to Heaven, as if to say, There we will meet on some April day. THE CAPTURED STEAMER GEN. MIRAMON. - The New Orleans Picayune says : The U. S. prize steamer Gen. Miramon, Lieut. Minor commanding, came up to the city yesterday morning, and anchored off the Marine Hospital, where she now lies. She was Com. Marin's flagship, and consequently fitted up with more of an eye to comfort and elegance than her consort, the Marques de la Habana. Her cabin, in particular, is very neatly and tastefully arranged. Among its ornaments are several very pretty drawings of the Commodore's two sons, who were taken on board with him. Outside the Miramon's cabin, however, things look very different. The gun deck, upper works, rigging and all, give evidence of the hot engage ment she has been in. The marks of cannon balls, Minnie balls, musket balls, and shell explosions, are everywhere to be seen. Among the most no-ticeable is the mark of a cannon shot on a large mounted iron piece in the centre of the vessel. It is particularly curious in this that the iron has the appearance of being melted, rather than indented The smoke stack, also, curious enough, has a clean cannon shot through it. The wheel and wheel-dled in every direction, and the rigging very badly The Miramon received three broadsides from the Saratoga, besides an innumerable number of rifle shots from the Indianola, during the engagement, and it is surprising that the loss of life, in each case great, was not even greater. Everything bears witness to the bravery and determined re-sistance of her commander. He yielded, however, very gracefully to adverse fortune. Retiring at once to his cabin he divested himself of every portion of his uniform, except a richly tasseled commodore's scarf, and attired himself in a plain but elegant suit of black, which he was worn ever since.

house, compass, ventilator, &c., are completely smashed up, while the sides of the steamer are rid-

Com. Marin is about fifty years of age, but appears somewhat younger. He is very slight built, not more than five feet five or six inches in height, and, perhaps, 120 pounds in weight. He is very firmly knit together, however, particularly in the shoulders, stands and walk perfectly erect, and altogether has a commanding appearance. A very dark complexion and jet black eye give bim also a somewhat flery appearance, or what would be such, were it not for quiet and exceedingly POLICE LAW -The argument before the Court of Appeals on the constitutionality of the new pclice law was continued and concluded yesterday by Wm. Schley, esq., for the Mayor and City Council. With the exception of a point raised as to the constitutionality of the "Helper amend. inent" affixed to the bill in the Senate, the legal issues argued were the same as those adjudicated on the Superior Court. The decision of the court will probably be announced in a few days. - Bal.

DESTRUCTIVE FIRE IN WASHINGTON COUNTY. Pa.—The borough of Washington has been visited by a destructive conflagration, the most serious that ever occurred in that place. The fire broke out on Wednesday morning in an extensive gro-cery establishment, and before it could be extinguished communicated with and destroyed eight or ten stores and dwellings on both sides of the street. The total loss is estimated at $50,000.

The operatives in the Harmony Mills at Cohoes, N. Y., to the number of 1,200, have struck for an advance of wages, and operations in the establishment are for the present suspended. They claim old prices before the "panic."

IT IS NOT TOO MUCH TO BAY, SINCE ALL, OLD AND YOUNG,

AFFIRM ITS TRUTH, VIZ:-THAT PROFESSOR WOOD'S HAIR RESTORATIVE Will preserve infallibly the growth and color of the hair, if used two or three times a week, to any imaginable age. Perfectly, restore the gray, cover the bald with nature's own ornament, the hair; make is more soft and beautiful than any oil, and preserve the scalp free from all disease to the greatest age. Statesmen, Judges, Attorneys, Doctore, Clergymen, Professional men, and Gentlemen and Ladies of all classes, all over the world, bear testimony that we do not say too much in its favor. mony that we do not say too much in its favor. Read the following, and judge:

HICKORY GROVE, St. Charles co., Mo., Nov. 19, '57. PROF. O. J. WOOD-Dear Sir: Sometime last summer we were induced to use some of your Hair Restorative, and its effects were so wonderful, we feel it our duty to you and the afflicted, to report it. Our little son's head for sometime had been perfectly covered with sores, and some called it scald head. The hair almost entirely came off in consequence, when a friend, seeing his sufferings, advised us to use your Restorative; we did so with tittle hope of success; but to our surprise, and that of all our friends, a very few applications removed the disease entirely, and a new and luxuriant crop of hair soon started out, and we can now say that our boy has as healthy a scalp, and as luxuriant a crop of heir as any other child. We can, therefore, and do hereby, recommend your Restorative, as a perfect remedy for all diseases of the scalp and bair. We are, yours respectfully, GEORGE W. HIGGINBOTHAM, BARAH A. HIGGINBOTHAM. PROF. WOOD-Dear Sir: My hair had, for several years, been becoming prematurely gray, accompanied by a harsh-ness which rendered the constant application of oil necessary in dressing it. When I commenced using your Hair Restorative about two months ago it was in that condition; and hav-ing continued its use till within the last three weeks, it has turned to its natural color, and assumed a softness and lustre greatly to be preferred to those produced by the application of oils or any other preparation I have used. I regard it as an indispensable article for every lady's toilet, whether to be used as a Hair Restorative, or for the simple purpose of dressing or beautifying the hair. You have permission to refer to me all who entertain any doubt of its performing all that is claimed for it.

MRs. C. SYMONDS, 114 Third street CINCINNATI, D., Feb. 10, 1857. WELLINGTON, Mo., Dec. 5, 1857 PROF. WOOD-Dear Sir: By the advice of a friend of mine, who has been using your Hair Restorative, I was induced to try it. I had the fever, some time last May, and nearly every hair in my head came out. Now my hair has come in a great deal thicker than ever it was. Nothing but a duty and sympathy that I feel to communicate to others who are afficted as I have been, would induce me to give this public acknowledgment of the benefit I have received from Prof. Wood's Hair Restorative. Yours respectfully,

The Restorative is put up in bottles of three sizes, viz: large, medium, and small; the small holds half a pint, and retails for one dollar per bottle; the medium holds at least twenty per cent. more in proportion than the small, retails for two dollars per bottle; the large holds a quart, 40 per cent. more in proportion, and retails for $3 a bottle.
